

Dalila G

Peer Editing Worksheet—General Audience Paper (use the back if needed)
Names of Reviewers: Dalila Yolanda

1. Is the title specific and engaging?

Yes!

2. Is the problem or research question sufficiently introduced? Is relevant history or background information included?

Yes there is and she has an in depth section about background info.

3. What is the tone or kind of appeal used (wonder or application)? Give an example (word, phrase or sentence) that creates tone/appeal.

Application is used, 1st & last sentence

4. Are any adaptation techniques used (e.g., narration, examples, similes or metaphors)?

Yes, examples are used.

5. Are moral/economic/political considerations addressed? If not, can you make a suggestion?

Yes! Article is surrounded around racial/ethnic disparities which addresses moral/econ./political aspects. moral = black ppl have higher pain tolerance

6. Are sentences concise? Are unnecessary words/phrases/sentences used? Mark examples on the paper.

Yes, concise/straight to the point.

7. Are there many grammar, spelling, or punctuation mistakes? Mark examples on the paper.

Not alot.